

ACEs Aware Self-Care Tool for Pediatrics

When a child or teen has experienced significant Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs), their body may make more or less hormones than is healthy. This can lead to problems with a child's physical and/or mental health, such as asthma, poor growth, depression, or behavior problems. Safe, stable, and nurturing relationships and environments where children feel safe emotionally and physically can protect children's brains and bodies from the harmful effects of stress. You can help your child be healthier by managing your own stress response and helping your child do the same. Healthy nutrition, regular exercise, restful sleep, practicing mindfulness, building social connections, and getting mental health support can help to decrease stress hormones and prevent health problems. Here are some goals your family can set together to support your child's health. [Check the goals that you are picking for yourself and your family!]

	Health	y relationships. We've set a goal of
		Using respectful communication even when we are upset or angry
		Spending more high-quality time together as a family, such as:
		Having regular family meals together
		Having regular "no electronics" time for us to talk and/or play together
		Talking, reading, and/or singing together every day
		Making time to see friends to create a healthy support system for myself and our family
		Connecting regularly with members of our community to build social connections
		Asking for help if a relationship or environment feels physically or emotionally unsafe

☐ Exercise. We've set a goal of Limiting screen time to less than one hour per day
		Walking at least 20 minutes every day
		Finding a type of exercise that we enjoy and doing it together as a family
		Getting my child involved in a sport, dance class, or other form of regular exercise
		Create your own goal:

	Nutrition. We've set a goal of
		Eating a healthy breakfast daily (with protein, whole grains, and/or fruit)
		Drinking water instead of juice or soda
		Eating at least 5 vegetables and/or fruits every day
		Choosing whole wheat bread and brown rice instead of white bread or rice
		Create your own goal:
	Sleep.	We've set a goal of
		Turning off screens 30 minutes before bedtime
		Helping my child go to bed at the same time every night
		Making a routine of reading a book to my child before bed (or, if older, letting my child read to me)
		Creating a calm place for sleep
		Using mindfulness or other stress reduction tools if worry is keeping my child up at night
		Create your own goal:
	Mindf	ulness. We've set a goal of
		Taking moments throughout the day to notice how we're feeling, both physically and emotionally
		Finding at least one thing to be thankful for each day
		Practicing mindful breathing or other calming technique(s) during stressful situations
		Creating a regular routine of prayer, meditation, and/or yoga
		Downloading a mindfulness app and doing a mindfulness activity every day
